The Hexagon Book Series on Human and Environmental Security and Peace

- This book series includes edited volumes and monographs
 - that cross scientific disciplines of natural & social sciences,
 - from North & South: common challenges & risks for humankind in 21st cent.
- From a human-centred perspective, this book series offers a platform for scientific communities dealing with
 - global environmental & climate change, disaster reduction, human, environmental, gender security,
 - Peace, security, development & environmental studies
 - for the humanitarian aid and the policy community in national governments and international organizations.

Scientific & Policy Goals:

- Impacts of anthropogene global environmental and climate change on the security of states and human beings (humankind)
- This requires a "Reconceptualization of Security"
- Global mental mapping of the rethinking on security
- Multi-, Inter- & Transdisciplinarity: Authors from more than 20 disciplines
- International and Diversity
 - Beyond the dominant thinking of the "top billion" of the triad
 - Cultural, religious, philosophical and ethical dimensions
- Dialogue: scientists and policymakers
 - Former or active policymakers, diplomats and military officiers
 - Experienced scholars but also young talents

Why Hexagon Book Series?

6 causes of GEC or pressures human-induced supply side

- · Air: Global climate change
- Soil degrad., desertification
- Water scarcity, hydrol. cycle

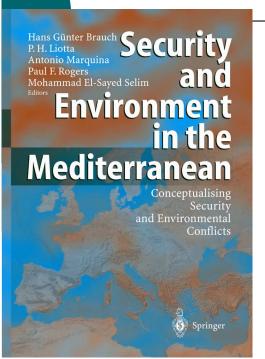

Human-induced demand side O

- Population growth
- Urbanization, Pollution, Health
- Rural systems: Agriculture & Food

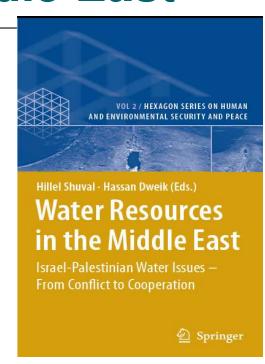

- The 'hexagon': Six key factors contributing to global environmental change –
 - three nature-induced or supply factors: soil, water and air (atmosphere, climate),
 - three human-induced or demand factors: population (growth), urban systems (habitat, pollution), rural systems (agriculture, food).
- Throughout earth and human history these six factors have interacted.
 - The supply factors have created the preconditions for life
 - while human behaviour and economic consumption patterns have contributed to its challenges (increase in extreme weather events) and fatal outcomes for human beings and society.

The series covers the complex interactions among these 6 factors and their extreme outcomes (hazards/disasters, internal displacement, migrations, crises, conflicts).

Facing Global Environmental Change

Environmental, Human, Energy, Food, Health and Water Security Concepts

H.G Brauch, U. Oswald Spring, J. Grin, C. Mesjasz, P. Kameri-Mbote, N. Chadha Behera, B.Chourou, H. Krummenacher (Eds.): Facing Global Environmental Change: Environmental, Human, Energy, Food, Health and Water Security Concepts. Hexagon Series on Human and Environmental Security and Peace, vol. 4 (Berlin – Heidelberg – New York: Springer-Verlag, 2008), in press.

- In the second volume of this policy-focused, global and multidisciplinary security handbook on Facing Global Environmental Change addresses
- onew security threats of the 21st century posed by climate change, desertifi-cation, water stress, population growth and urbanization.
- These security dangers and concerns lead to migration, crises and conflicts. They are on the agenda of the UN, OECD, OSCE, NATO and EU.
- o In 100 chapters, 132 authors from 49 countries analyze the global debate on environmental, human and gender, energy, food, livelihood, health and water security concepts and policy problems.
- o In 10 parts they discuss the context and the securitization of global environmental change and of extreme natural and societal outcomes. They suggest a new research programme to move from knowledge to action, from reactive to proactive policies and to explore the opportunities of environmental cooperation for a new peace policy.

Global Mapping of Security Concepts and Issues

Three factors triggered this reconceptualization of security since 1990:

- End of the Cold War (or 11 September 2001)
- Process of Globalization (new dangers and actors)
- Impact of Global Environmental Change in the Anthropocene era of earth history
- Key thesis: Global contextual changes have triggered conceptual innovations since 1990
- Result: Global security reconceptualization: widening, deepening and sectorialization
- Goal: Global mapping of this reconceptualization of security concepts and issues

Conceptual Innovations: From a Reconceptualization of Security to a Securitization Process

Owere the conceptual innovations?

- Theoretical innovations unrelated to contextual change:
 - Social constructivism in the social science
 - o Ulrich Beck: Risk society (1986), World Risk Society (2007)
- Copenhagen School:Buzan/Waever/de Wilde: On Security (1998) analyzing the impacts: widening & deepening
 - widening and deepening of security agenda
 - theory of securitzation (speech act)
- Copenhagen school security as a "speech act", "where a securitizing actor designates a threat to a specified reference object and declares an existential threat implying a right to use extraordinary means to fend it off".
- Such a process of "securitization" is successful when the construction of an "existential threat" by a policy maker is socially accepted and where the "survival" against existential threats is crucial.

Innovation of this scientific dialogue project:

- Global Mapping of reconceputalization: in politics & science
- Sectorialization of security concepts and issues
- Securitization of Global Environmental Change focusing on:
 - Facing and Coping with Global Environmental Change

From a Security Dilemma towards a Survival Dilemma

Security Dilemma

- State-centred & explains behaviour of states, especially the relationship between perception of the other country (fear) and its
- Response: national security strategies
- Military means (armament)
- Results: often regional arms races between neighbouring states
- Concept: national, regional and international state security
- Well-established concept by Herz (1950) and Ken Booth (2008)

Survival Dilemma

- Human-centred concept
- Dilemma faced by poor & vulnerable human beings, e.g. in hazards:
 - to stay at home & die of thirst and hunger
 - to move to refugee camps & wait for assistance
 - to move with herds and fight for access to water
 - to migrate to city slums
- Policy Responses:
 - Reactive: humanitarian assitance
 - Proactive: Sustainable Development as a Human Security policy policy
- My own proposed concept

From Research to Action: Enhancing Environmental & Human Security Towards Environmental Conflict Avoidance

Primary Goal: address extreme outcomes of GEC: hazards and disasters, migration, crises & conflicts that may have been caused, triggered, induced, influenced by: a) environmental stress and b) extreme weather events,

- Enhance Environmental Security: Address human behaviour that contributes to GEC via climate change, soil degradation, water pollution & scarcity: sustainable strategies
- Enhance Human Security: address factors of GEC that challenge survival of individuals, families, villages, ethnic groups
- Avoid Environmentally-induced Conflicts: address structural or causal factors (of Survival Hexagon), e.g. climate policy, combat desertification, cope with water stress.

From his foreword:

o "This book deserves many readers in all parts of the world, especially in those countries where university and research libraries may not be able to afford such references books. It is hoped that these scientific and policy-relevant messages can again be made available with the support of private foundations and donors to the young generation in the global South that will ex-perience many of these challenges to their security and survival during this century."
