

Von:

bounce-731794-136942@lists.iisd.ca im Auftrag von Hans Guenter Brauch [brauch@onlinehome.de]

Gesendet: Montag, 3. März 2008 20:13

An: Water Issues Announcement List

Betreff:

New book on Globalization and Environmental Challenges: Reconceptualizing Security in the 21 st Century

Peace Research and European Security Studies (AFES-PRESS) e.V.

PD Dr. Hans Günter Brauch, Alte Bergsteige 47, 74821 Mosbach, Germany, 3 March 2008

(49-6261-12912 2 49-6261-15695 : afes @ afes-press.de ¾ http://www.afes-press.de

Dear all,

I would like to draw your attention to a new major book co-edited by:

Hans Günter Brauch, Úrsula Oswald Spring, Czeslaw Mesjasz, John Grin, Pal Dunay, Navnita Cha Behera, Béchir Chourou, Patricia Kameri-Mbote, P.H. Liotta (Eds.): Globalization and Environmental Challenges: Reconceptualizing Security in the 21 st Century. Hexagon Series on Human and Environmental Security and Peace, vol. 3 (Berlin – Heidelberg – New York: Springer-Verlag, 2008), 1176 p. 85 illus., ISBN: 978-3-540-75976-8

Comments on this new book on global environmental change and water issues

Stavros Dimas, Commissioner for the Environment, European Union:

Globalisation and Environmental Challenges: Reconceptualising Security in the 21 st Century – sums up many of the dilemmas and challenges facing policy-makers today. Since the end of the Cold War, the security debate has c fundamentally. A study which addresses the new challenges and suggests responses will therefore be a welcome addition to the policy-maker's toolkit. For this reason, I warmly welcome this volume.

Professor Hans van Ginkel, former Rector of the United Nations University 1997-2007):

“This unique compilation of global scholarship deserves many readers and should be available in all major university an research libraries in all parts of the world and for all scholars also on the Internet.”

Professor Klaus Töpfer, former Executive Director, UNEP (1997-2006):

“This book deserves many readers in all parts of the world, especially in those countries where university and research libraries may not be able to afford such references books. It is hoped that these scientific and policy-relevant messages can again be made available with the support of private foundations and donors to the young generation in the global South that wi experience many of these challenges to their security and survival during this century.”

Put quite simply, the twin impacts of globalization and environmental degradation pose new security dangers and concerns. In this comprehensive new work on global security thinking, 92 authors from five continents and many disciplines, from science and practice, assess the worldwide reassessment of the meaning of security triggered by the end of the Cold War and globalization, as well as the multifarious impacts of global environmental change in the early 21st century.

Chapters address the theoretical, philosophical, ethical and religious and spatial context of security. They analyze the relationship between security, peace, development and environment. The authors move on to review the rethinking of security in international law, economics and political science, as well as in the key political, military and economic milieus.

The book also examines the environmental security dimension and the adaptation of the institutional security concepts of the UN, EU and NATO, and analyzes the effect of change on regional security.

Finally, it posits alternative security futures and draws conclusions for future research and action.

Written for: Scientists, researchers; libraries, international organisations, institutes (social and political sciences, philosophy, environmental sciences, geography, climatology, geosciences, economics, law, sociology, education, military academies)

Keywords: water, climate change; environment; global environmental change; globalization; political concepts, security, peace, development

With Forewords by Stavros Dimas, Commissioner for the Environment, European Union; Professor Hans van Ginkel, former Rector of the United Nations University and Under-Secretary General of the UN (1997-2007); Professor Klaus Töpfer, former Executive Director, UNEP and Under-Secretary General of the UN (1997-2006).

With Preface Essays by Ambassador Jonathan Dean, Union of Concerned Scientists, Washington, D. C.; Professor Úrsula Oswald Spring, former Environment Minister, Morelos, Mexico; Dr. Vandana Shiva, Alternative Nobel Prize, New Delhi, India; Dr. Narcis Serra, former Vice President of the Government and former Defence Minister of Spain.

The nine co-editors are:

Hans Günter Brauch, PD (Adj.

Prof.) at the Free University of Berlin, chairman of AFES-PRESS, fellow at UNU-EHS in Bonn and editor of this series; he publishes on security and environment issues.

Úrsula Oswald Spring,

Professor at National University, Mexico; UNU-EHS chair on social vulnerability; she writes on sustainability, development, gender, disaster, poverty and collaborates with peasants.

Czeslaw Mesjasz

, Assoc. Professor, Vice Dean, Management, Cracow University of Economics; publishes on systems and game theory, conflict resolution, negotiation, economics, finance, security.

John

Grin

, Professor, Director of the Amsterdam School for Social science Research; publishes on societal transformations in water management, agriculture and health care, and advises practitioners.

Pál Dunay

is faculty member, Geneva Centre for Security Policy. He was senior researcher at SIPRI (2004-2007) and director of the Hungarian Institute of International Affairs in 2007.

Navnita

Chadha

Behera

(New Delhi), Professor at the Nelson Mandela Centre for Peace and Conflict Resolution, Jamia Millia Islam publishes on Kashmir and South Asian security issues.

Béchir Chourou

teaches International Relations at the University of Tunis-Carthage in Tunisia and publishes on Euro-Mediterranean relations, food policy and human security in the Arab world.

Patricia Kameri-Mbote, Associate Professor, School of Law, University of Nairobi, Chair, Department of Private Law; Programme Director, International Environmental Law Research Centre, Nairobi.

P.

H.

Liotta

is Professor of Humanities and Executive Director of the Pell Center for International Relations and Public Policy at Salve Regina University, Newport, Rhode Island.

Details you find at: < http://www.afes-press-books.de/html/hexagon_03.htm> where there is information on book announcements and internet book stores that globally carry this major new book at: < http://www.afes-press-books.de/html/hexagon_03_announcements.htm> and a documentation on book presentations and press conferences at: < http://www.afes-press-books.de/html/hexagon_03_PressConf_Presentations.htm>.

A list of contents is at: <

http://www.springer.com/cda/content/document/cda_downloaddocument/9783540759768-t1.pdf?SGWID=1

The introductory chapter is at: < http://www.springer.com/cda/content/document/cda_downloaddocument/9783540759768-c1.pdf?SGWID=0-0-45-494882-p173775913>.

An order form is at: < http://www.afes-press-books.de/pdf/Hexagon_3/Hexagon%20III_Glo-balization.pdf>.

All 75 book chapters are individually available at Springerlink, at: < <http://springerlink.com/content/x33671/?p=7450fc3b70e8490f907643b3c87da4d7&pi=0>>. The backmatter (list of abbreviations, integrated bibliography, biographies) is available free of charge at:
<<http://springerlink.com/content/x33671/back-matter.pdf>>.

For additional background information and also a link to the website of the publisher go to: < <http://www.springer.com/law/environmental/book/978-3-540-75976-8> >.

The book has been published as the third volume of the peer-reviewed and multidisciplinary Hexagon Series on Human and Environmental Security and Peace (HESP). For details on this scientific book series go to: <<http://www.afes-press-books.de/html/hexagon.htm>> and to the website of the publisher at: <<http://www.springer.com/series/8090>>.

With kind regards
Hans Guenter Brauch,
AFES-PRESS Chairman
Free University of Berlin
Fellow, UNU-EHS, Germany

You are currently subscribed to water-1 as: brauch@onlinehome.de
To unsubscribe send a blank email to leave-731794-136942.ad2ab98bef553fb87a2e0ee6f51ecc29
- Subscribe to IISD Reporting Services' free newsletters and lists for environment and su